

Manufacturer Declaration

Declaration regarding components

VULKAN do Brasil as the manufacturer hereby declares that all our flexible and rigid couplings are not regulated by the Machinery Directive 2006/42/EC because none of these products can be considered as "Machinery" or "Incomplete Machinery" in the sense of this directive. Instead of this, all these products are rather components, which are not regulated by the Machinery Directive 2006/42/EC according to "Guide to application of the Machinery Directive 2006/42/EC" - § 35.

Therefore, CE marking is not required nor allowed and Declarations of Incorporation as per Machinery Directive 2006/42/EC do not apply and not may be issued by us.

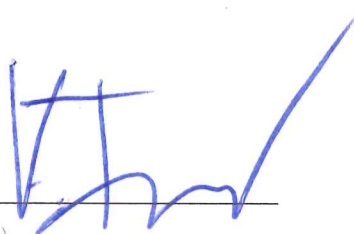

We as the manufacturer of these products confirm, that we anyhow have applied all rules and standards (technical specifications, guidelines etc.) to guarantee the secure placing on the market of all these products.

This declaration refers only to the original state of the products. In the case of any alteration resp. modification of our products after receipt compared to the original state, this declaration becomes immediately invalid.
